

NEW CKUR – Affordable Video Security

CAMERA CKUR

- Protect your cameras and network affordably
- Easy Installation with Maximum Protection
- Simple Integration with No Impact on Efficiency
- Small Device Installs on Any Camera, Anywhere

Virtually every network today incorporates sensors and video. Modern cameras and video security systems access the internet and are open to intrusion, hacking or spying.

MOST IP video cameras are IMPORTED into the United States

In 2017, thousands of cameras of a Chinese brand were used in DDOS (directed denial of service) on Netflix and other's networks. This diversion allowed more sinister activities.

The camera manufacturer claimed it was a software flaw that "others" discovered and exploited.
